

Phoenix Boys Choir Managing Director

Organization

The Phoenix Boys Choir (PBC) is a professional nonprofit organization that transforms the lives of boys and young men from diverse backgrounds, fosters the highest level of musical excellence, and develops character, leadership, and global awareness. All boys with a passion for music are welcome to join PBC, even without any prior music experience. The learning journey begins with the Cadet Choir and then the boys progress to the Town Choir, Tour Choir, and Young Men's Ensemble. Upon graduation, members can continue their music experience in the Masters Men's Choir.

Now in its 76th year, PBC boasts an impressive participation of approximately 125 boys and young men aged 7 to 18 throughout the Phoenix metropolitan area – as far away as Apache Junction, Surprise, Anthem, San Tan Valley, Maricopa, and Sedona.

PBC is driven by its core values of Harmony, Musical Excellence, Diversity, Accessibility, and Leadership.
PBC's vision: To use our voices to change the world for the better.

Each year, PBC presents a full season of performances, featuring a diverse repertoire that spans from classical masterpieces to popular selections. The audience base of PBC reaches over 92,000 adults annually, with nearly 8,400 youth attending the performances. PBC's dedication to excellence extends beyond live concerts, as it also records CDs, participates in prestigious music festivals, collaborates with other professional groups, and even hosts touring choirs.

The remarkable talents of PBC have performed for four United States Presidents and shared the stage with esteemed entertainers, including Doc Severinsen, Stevie Wonder, and Keith Lockhart, who conducted the Boston Pops Orchestra aside from collaborating with the Phoenix Symphony, Arizona Opera, Phoenix Chorale, Orpheus Chorus. They have also performed at special events such as Joe Foss Institute's Stars In Service, Celebrity Fight Night, and Alice Cooper's Christmas Pudding and joined forces with various organizations to support special causes, including with St. Mary's Food Bank, The Salvation Army, the Phoenix Children's Hospital, Rosie's House Music Academy for Children, Phoenix Youth Symphony, and the Desert Botanical Garden. PBC's performance level divisions also represent the choir on national and international stages touring throughout Europe, Canada, Japan, the Republic of the Philippines, and more.

PBC has a 15-member board of trustees led by Board Chair Cheryl Klock McNeill, and now in his fifth year, Herbert Washington serves as the Harvey K. Smith Artistic Director. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2022, PBC reported a total revenue of $1.16 million with $767,397 from contributions and grants, $252,730 from program services, and $123,920 from investment income. Total expenses were $691,106.

Community

Surrounded by mountain ranges, the Greater Phoenix area encompasses more than 500 square miles of Sonoran Desert and is comprised of 24 municipalities – each with a distinct set of characteristics, attractions and flavors that offer a unique glimpse of the nation's fifth largest city. Referred to as the "Valley of the Sun", Phoenix has more sunny days (approximately 300) than any other major city in the United States with an annual average rainfall of eight inches. Dotted with resorts and golf courses and bounded by national forests and American Indian communities, Phoenix is known for its sunny climate and spectacular desert landscapes. The surrounding cities feature a vibrant culture and numerous opportunities for outdoor adventures. With the fabled Grand Canyon just four hours away, the state's capital city features attractions that are equally breathtaking.

Phoenix is the 5th largest city in the U.S. with a population of $1.64 million. The median annual household income in Phoenix is approximately $65,000, and almost 56% of the city's population own their homes. Phoenix boasts a growing, diverse population whose residents are 43% Hispanic/Latino, 42% white, 7% African American, and 8% American Indian, Asian, Pacific Islander, Hawaiian and mixed race. The median age is 34, with 11% of the population aged 65 and older. Arizona's job and economic growth forecasts over the next five years are among the best in the U.S.

Scottsdale's Camelback Mountain, a favorite spot for runners, hikers, and bikers, offers spectacular views of the valley floor and the nearby mountains lining the Mogollon Rim. South Mountain Park, the largest municipal park in the U.S., is another recreation mainstay that horseback riders particularly love. At Phoenix's Desert Botanical Garden in Papago Park, you can learn about the environment and see such sentinels as agave, yucca, ocotillo, palo verde, mesquite and saguaro cacti.

A highlight of Greater Phoenix is the area's rich arts-and-culture environment. Performances at a multitude of theaters, symphony and opera concert halls, and cultural centers are constant attractions, while art and history lovers can flock to a diverse, fascinating museums. With award-winning destinations and critically acclaimed chefs, Phoenix has come into its own, as a food destination, in a way that is unique to this massive metropolitan city known for its non-native transplants. Phoenix is also home to a range of professional sports teams, including football, basketball, baseball, and hockey and hosts major sporting college football, PGA golf, and NASCAR events each year.
